

INTERNATIONALISATION OF THE CURRICULUM: from theory to practice

Lecturer: Asist. Prof. Dr. Katarina Aškerc Zadavec

LEARNING OUTCOMES of the workshop:

Participants

- are familiar with the concepts internationalisation of the curriculum and internationalisation at home,
- recognize and define the elements of internationalised curriculum within their academic discipline/profession,
- prepare the draft example of internationalised curriculum for their own subject.

1st day

Time	Content
13:00-14:30 90 mins	Who are we and why are we here (short presentation of participants) Concepts and definitions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - internationalization in higher education, - internationalization of the curriculum and/or internationalization at home (why, what, how?)

2nd day

Time	Content
13:00-14:30 90 mins	Internationalised Learning Outcomes (ILOs) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - meaning, writing and use of ILOs Internationalised Curriculum in Practice <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Constructively Aligned Internationalised Curriculum - Program Logic Model

*All workshops will be held in the hall A2.

Participants are kindly asked to bring to the workshop an example of a syllabus(es) for the subject(s) that they teach at the university.

The workshop will be held in English language.

Dr. Katarina Aškerc Zadavec is a vice dean for quality at Ljubljana School of Business, Slovenia, where she is also a head of internationalisation affairs, as well as a lecturer and a researcher with a focus on internationalisation of higher education. She is especially enthusiastic about internationalisation of the curriculum and internationalisation at home, and is an expert in quality assurance in higher education.

Since 2020, Katarina has been an elected member of the EAIE Expert Community Internationalisation at Home, she is a member of the Project Task Group at EUMMAS. She is also an external evaluator at the Slovenian QA Agency, wherein she has been included in several QA external evaluations in Slovenia and abroad, she is also an external expert in evaluations of the Erasmus Charter for Higher Education. She has facilitated several training courses and coached academics and international staff in internationalising the curriculum in Slovenia and abroad.

Katarina was actively included in the preparation of the Strategy of Internationalisation of Slovenian Higher Education, which she also co-edited. She has been a member of several programme and organizing committees of (inter)national conferences, was actively included in various (inter)national research and strategic projects, she is a reviewer for various scientific journals and publications and a (co)author and (co)editor of several papers and publications in her field of research (bibliography).

Katarina holds a PhD in Educational Sciences with a focus on internationalised home curriculum and management in education.